Are you investing your way?

As a participant in the DCRP, you automatically have 5.5% of your base salary contributed to your plan account—along with a 3% employer contribution. But while you can't control your contribution level, you can control how the money in your account is invested, by either:

- Choosing your own investments; or
- Enrolling in GoalMaker®, which simplifies the investment selection process and automatically rebalances your investments quarterly.

Only you can decide how to invest your plan contributions—and how you invest your money may change over time. But here's one thing that most financial professionals agree on: In order to reach their long-term financial goals, participants should consider choosing an assortment of investment options that have good long-term growth potential, but that are in line with their long-term goals and objectives.

Consider logging in to your account at newjersey.retirepru.com and choosing your investments. Or, if you've done so already, review your chosen funds to make sure they're still appropriate for you. Doing so is an important part of your retirement planning journey.

GoalMaker's model allocations are based on generally accepted financial theories that take into account the historic returns of different asset classes. But, of course, past performance of any investment does not guarantee future results. Participants should consider their other assets, income, and investments (e.g., equity in a home, Social Security benefits, individual retirement plan investments, etc.) in addition to their interest in the plan, to the extent those items are not taken into account in the model. Participants should also periodically reassess their GoalMaker investments to make sure their model portfolio continues to correspond to their changing attitudes and retirement time horizon.
